

Best Simulation

For this simulation I used a PID controller with gains of $P = 4$, $I = 0.01$, and $D = P$.

From the error plot shown in this folder, it can be seen that the error converges to zero very quickly but there is a small spike around 1000 ms in the X and Z error. This error is negligible, however.